Notes to the Financial Statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 comparatively presented with the prior fiscal year

- In thousands of Argentine pesos -

NOTE 1 - NATURE AND PURPOSE OF THE CENTRAL BANK OF ARGENTINA

The Central Bank of Argentina (BCRA) is a self-regulating entity of the Argentine Government that is subject to the provisions of its Charter and further legal regulations (section 1, Law No. 24.144, as amended).

The purpose of the Bank is to promote —within the scope of its powers and under the policies set by the Federal Government— monetary and financial stability, employment and economic development along with social equality (section 3 of the Charter). In addition, section 4 of the Charter set forth the following BCRA functions and powers:

- to regulate the operation of the financial system and enforce Financial Institutions Law and such regulations as may be consequently enacted;
- to regulate the amount of money and interest rates, and to regulate and steer lending;
- to serve as the financial agent for the Federal Government, and as depositary and agent for Argentina before international monetary, banking and financial institutions to which Argentina has endorsed, and to play an active role in international integration and cooperation;
- to hold and administer its gold and foreign exchange reserves, and other foreign assets;
- to contribute to the smooth functioning of capital markets and to implement the foreign exchange policy in full accordance with the laws passed by the National Congress;
- to regulate, within its authority, all payment systems, clearing and settlement houses, money remittance entities, and cash-in-transit companies, and to carry out any other action related to the financial and foreign exchange sectors;
- to provide for the protection of financial service users' rights and of fair competition, coordinating its actions with all relevant government agencies.

NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT EVENTS FOR FISCAL YEAR 2013 AND 2012

For a better reading of the accompanying financial statements, the following paragraphs will describe the most significant events occurred during such fiscal years.

2.1 Law No. 26.739. Amendment to BCRA Charter and Convertibility Law

On March 22, 2012, the National Congress enacted BCRA Charter Amendment Law No. 24.144, as amended, and Convertibility Law No. 23.928, as amended. The main aspects of the amendment include:

2.1.1 Charter

As mentioned in note 1 above, the purpose of the Bank is to promote —within the scope of its powers and under the policies set by the Federal Government— monetary and financial stability and economic development along with social equality (section 3). As established in section 4, in carrying out its functions and powers, the Bank shall neither be subject to any order, indication, or instruction from the Federal Executive, nor may it undertake any commitment conditioning, restricting or delegating such functions and powers without the express consent of the National Congress.

In this sense, its main powers —apart from those set forth in the Charter— are to protect financial service users and fair competition, coordinating its performance with competent public authorities, determine the level of gold, foreign exchange and other foreign asset reserves required for foreign exchange policy implementation, considering the changes in foreign accounts, regulate lending financial conditions, issue regulations protecting financial system competition, and setting differentiated policies aimed at small and medium-sized enterprises and regional economies (sections 4 and 14).

As an exception and only if circumstances or national or international economic prospects justified so, the BCRA may grant temporary loans to the Federal Government for an amount not exceeding ten per cent (10%) of the cash flows earned by the Federal Government in the last twelve months. This exceptional power may be exercised for up to eighteen months. Upon the lapse of this period, the BCRA may not grant to the Federal Government any additional loan. The loans referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be reimbursed within eighteen (18) months from the time they are granted. Should any of these loans remain unpaid after such term has elapsed, this possibility may not be used again until the amounts due are reimbursed (section 20). The first loan matured on January 5, 2014, and its renewal is subject to section 20 of the Charter.

BCRA's financial statements must be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards, taking into account its capacity as monetary authority, while the application of general principles established by the SEFyC (Financial Institutions and Foreign Exchange Regulatory Agency) for financial institutions was discontinued (section 34). In this regard, the accompanying financial statements have been prepared based on the accounting policies contained in the "Accounting Policy Manual" approved by the Bank's Board of Governors through Resolution No. 86 dated May 16, 2013, as amended. The application of these criteria has not given rise to any significant changes in the accompanying or in prior-year financial statements.

2.1.2 Convertibility Law

Section 4, Law No. 23.928, as amended, which established BCRA's international reserves supporting the monetary base, was abrogated. The new wording under section 6, which replaced the previous section, sets forth that international reserves cannot be attached and that they will be used exclusively for foreign exchange policy implementation purposes up to the level determined by the Board of Governors pursuant to the powers granted by section 14(q) of the Charter. In addition, section 6 adds that surplus reserves shall be known as "freely-available reserves" and that they may be used to pay the obligations assumed with international financial institutions or bilateral official foreign debt, provided that this implied a nil monetary effect. In this sense, before those payments are made, the Board of Governors shall assess that level.

In addition, section 5, Convertibility Law, set forth that it is required to disclose reserve amounts, structure and investments in BCRA financial statements, as well as monetary base amounts and structure.

2.2 Law No. 26.860 – Voluntary disclosure of holdings in foreign currency in Argentina and abroad

On May 29, 2013, Argentine Congress enacted Law No. 26.860, which sets forth a system for the voluntary disclosure of holdings in foreign currency in Argentina and abroad. The abovementioned law also provided for the creation of the "BAADE" (Argentine bond for economic development) and the "Promissory Note for Economic Development", to be issued by the Ministry of Economy and Public Finance, and the "CEDIN" (Certificate of deposit for investment) to be issued by the BCRA.

The CEDIN is registered and endorsable and constitutes sufficient means to settle obligations to give amounts of money in US dollars. It shall be settled in the same currency of issuance by the BCRA or the institution appointed thereby, upon presentation of the certificate by its holder or endorsee, and settlement is subject to the prior accreditation of the purchase of land, warehouses, stores, offices, garages, lots, plots and already-constructed housing and/or the construction of new housing units and/or real property refurbishment. The BCRA established the implementation of CEDIN-related transactions in Communiqué "A" 5447, of June 12, 2013 (see note 4.10.2). Note that Presidential Decree No. 2170/2013 has extended system terms until late March 2014.

2.3 Capital Market Law

On December 27, 2012, Law No. 26.831 was issued through Administrative Order No. 2601/2012, which set forth a new public offering system aimed at regulating the public offering of securities in full. In addition, by virtue of the powers granted by the abovementioned regulation, the Argentine Securities Commission (CNV) issued General Resolution No. 622/2013 on September 5, 2013.

NOTE 3 - ACCOUNTING STANDARDS APPLIED

3.1 Significant accounting policies

Financial statements have been prepared pursuant to section 34 of the Charter, subject to generally accepted standards, in its capacity as monetary authority, following the principles and criteria contained in the “Accounting Policy Manual” approved by the Bank’s Board of Governors through Resolution No. 86 dated May 16, 2013, updated as of year-end.

The accompanying financial statements, exhibits and notes disclose figures stated in thousands.

In order to prepare the statement of cash flows, the “International reserves” item was defined as a “Cash and cash equivalents” item, showing the main variations in immediate-liquidity external assets that form a part thereof.

3.2 Use of estimates

Bank records are based on the best estimate regarding the probability of occurrence of different future events and, therefore, the final amount of estimates may differ from such records, which may have a positive or negative impact on future years. The preparation of financial statements requires the Bank to make estimates, in certain cases, to determine the book values of assets and liabilities, income, expenses and contingencies, as well as the disclosure thereof, as of each date of accounting information filing.

3.3 Comparative information

The balance and the statements of income, changes in shareholders’ equity and cash flows as of December 31, 2013, as well as exhibits and notes specifying so, are presented comparatively with balances as of the prior year-end.

3.4 Unit of measurement

The Bank’s financial statements recognize the changes in the currency purchasing power through February 28, 2003, and as of that date, the inclusion of adjustments to reflect those changes were no longer applied, in conformity with the provisions set forth in Argentine professional accounting standards and the requirements of Presidential Decree No. 664/2003 and Regulation CONAU I - 569.

In addition, the CPCECABA issued Resolution MD No. 41/2003, which established that the restatement in constant pesos was required to continue until September 30, 2003. The BCRA did not recognize in books the effects of variations in the currency purchasing power generated from March 1 through September 30, 2003, as required by current professional accounting standards. The effects of failing to recognize the variations in the currency purchasing power through the latter date are not material to the financial statements taken as a whole.

3.5 General valuation and disclosure methods

3.5.1 Assets and liabilities in foreign currency

Financial statements reporting date is the Argentine peso. Transactions in foreign currency are converted into Argentine pesos at the foreign exchange rate effective as of the date of transaction. Inventories in US dollars are subject to a benchmark foreign exchange rate as of December 31, 2013, and 2012, respectively, calculated by the BCRA itself pursuant to Communiqué “A” 3500 methodology. Inventories in other currencies, including gold inventories, are valued at the US dollar exchange rate effective on the relevant day closing at the markets in which BCRA trades, and they are converted into local currency on a daily basis at the benchmark foreign exchange rate published by the BCRA.

Exhibit II discloses the main amounts in foreign currency as of the end of fiscal 2013 and 2012.

The following chart shows the Argentine peso exchange rates to the different currencies used as of each year-end:

	12/31/2013	12/31/2012

NOTE 4 - BREAKDOWN AND SPECIFIC VALUATION METHODS OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS ITEMS

4.1.1 Gold

	12/31/2013	12/31/2012
Gold in bars	15.587.515	16.367.016
Allowance for gold in bars (Exhibit I)	(12.938)	(9.761)
Total	15.574.577	16.357.255

Gold physical inventories, equal to 1.985 troy ounces, were valued as of year-end at USD 1.204,8 per troy ounce, according to market prices effective as of the related date, and converted into Argentine pesos according to the method under note 3.5.1 (1.985 troy ounces valued at USD 1.676,8 as of December 31, 2012).

Gold ingots qualify as “good delivery”; consequently, a provision for sale expenses was booked, which consists in calculating the direct costs that should be incurred upon deciding to realize them. Such allowance was estimated in one US dollar per ounce and it is disclosed in financial statements, offsetting the amount in the “Gold” account.

According to the international reserve standards, only monetary gold qualifies as a reserve asset; therefore, the gold inventories kept for numismatic purposes are not deemed financial assets and are disclosed under Other assets (see note 4.8).

4.1.5 Derivatives over international reserves

Through Resolution No. 144 of June 28, 2006, the Board of Directors authorized the Reserve Administration Main Management to carry out transactions related to futures, options or forward transactions in foreign currency and in gold with certain institutions authorized by investment guidelines, to the extent that such derivatives were used to reduce the portfolio risk.

In this sense and in order both to reduce the daily volatility of US dollar-denominated income (loss) from the physical gold position and to cover the risk of decrease in the valuation of physical holdings, gold trading options have been acquired during the year, financing these transactions through the writing of call options for an equivalent value. These contracts are valued using mathematical valuation models established in the "Accounting Policy Manual" mentioned in note 3.1.

The contracts effective as of December 31, 2013, are broken down below:

This bond was issued on January 2, 1990. It is related to the consolidation of obligations assumed by the Argentine Government due to the funds provided by the BCRA by virtue of Presidential Decree No. 335/1991. Such bond is stated in Argentine currency for a 99-year term, it does not accrue interest and principal is adjusted through the selling Argentine peso-to-US dollar exchange rate published by Banco de la Nación Argentina. The amortization of adjusted principal is paid as from the tenth year. The adjustment was accrued until March 31, 1991, by virtue of section 8, Convertibility Law (the currency board that pegged the Argentine peso at parity with the US dollar), whereby the monetary adjustment mechanisms regarding the amounts stated in non-convertible australes would be applied exclusively until April 1, 1991, without accruing new adjustments for such items after that opportunity.

The original issuance amounts to ARS 881.464 while the amount adjusted as of December 31, 2013, pursuant to issuance conditions is ARS 4.734.790 (the same amount as of December 31, 2012). Considering that section 6, Law No. 25.565, authorized the former Ministry of Economy to restructure the public debt, Resolution No. 334/2002 of such ministry established that it will be amortized in 80 annual installments, the first one maturing on January 2, 2010, for an amount of 8.815. In view of the special financial characteristics of this bond, especially its term, grace period and that it does not accrue interest, the amount adjusted in accordance with the issuance terms and conditions, net of its offset account, was fully booked as an allowance. As of December 31, 2013, the allowance booked for the fifth instalment —which was collected on January 2, 2014— was recovered (see note 7.1 and Exhibit III).

4.2.1.2.2 Nontransferable Treasury Bills

As of December 31, 2013, they amounted to ARS 279.668.457 (ARS 164.706.321 as of December 31, 2012) (see Exhibit III). The line under analysis is made up of the following issued bills:

4.2.1.2.2.1 Non-transferable bill maturing in 2016

The bill was included in equity at its nominal value. Such valuation was based on the BCRA's financial capacity and its decision to maintain it until the due date. The payment made to that institution amounted to USD 9.530.111, which agrees with the bill nominal value.

The yield rate obtained in fiscal 2013 was 0,001%, while in fiscal 2012 the rate was 0,10%.

As of December 31, 2013, the amount converted into pesos according to the method of cost valuation plus accrued interest (Exhibit III) amounted to ARS 62.117.261 (ARS 46.893.046 as of December 31, 2012). In addition to the repurchase agreements agreed upon under general regulations, as from March 10, 2006, the Board of Governors approved agreeing upon repo transactions using government securities issued by the Argentine Government as underlying assets. The assets to be received in exchange may be in Argentine pesos, US dollars, euros or securities denominated in those same currencies issued by governments of countries whose long-term sovereign debt has a given credit risk rating. As of year-end, they were stated at nominal value plus accrued interest not yet collected and CER adjustment.

4.14 IMF Special Drawing Rights

IMF Special Drawing Rights refer to the amount allocated by the IMF to Argentina as member country. By virtue of its Articles of Agreement, the IMF may assign Special Drawing Rights to member countries in proportion to their quotas, whether on a general or special basis.

In 2009, the IMF made a general allocation of up to USD 250.000.000 among its member countries and USD 2.460.375 (SDR 1.569.427) was allocated to Argentina. In fiscal 2009, the Fourth Amendment of the IMF Articles of Agreement approved in 1997 became effective, which sets forth a special extraordinary allocation of SDRs amounting to about USD 33.000.000, while Argentina was allocated USD 207.316 (SDR 132.243). Both general and extraordinary allocations were received by the BCRA on account and behalf of the Federal Government for an amount of SDR 1.701.670.

4.15 Obligations with international agencies

“Obligations with international agencies” is mainly made up of the “Use of the reserve portion”, which is the main financial service made available by the IMF to a country and it does not represent the use of the credit from the IMF, there being no claim from the international organization regarding the funds used. The reserve portion of a country represents the payment percentage of the instalment established for participating in the IMF, which was included in reserve assets.

Apart from the item previously mentioned, “Obligations” is also made up of deposits with the Inter-American Development Bank, IMF and other international institutions.

The item breaks down as follows:

One of the transactions allowed to be BCRA under section 18 of its Charter consists in issuing securities or bonds and certificates of participation on the securities that it holds. Such monetary instrument known as LEBAC is issued in Argentine pesos and US dollars since 2002. Such LEBAC are negotiated on a discount basis and they are stated at face value net of interest to be accrued as of each year-end (see note 7.2).

As from May 2004, Board of Governors’ Resolution No. 155/04 authorized that a portion of issued LEBAC be used to perform repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions as monetary regulation instruments. As a result, the LEBAC portfolio used for such transactions is stated at market values and disclosed by deducting from “Securities issued by the BCRA” (see note 4.7).

As from April 19, 2005, NOBAC in Argentine pesos began to be issued with a variable coupon (BADLAR + 2,5%). Such NOBAC were stated at face value, plus interest accrued through each year-end.

Furthermore, as from September 26, 2007, the BCRA's Board of Governors authorized the issuance of LEBAC and NOBAC to be exclusively traded on the domestic market and earmarked for legal entities organized in Argentina subject to the ongoing oversight of domestic regulatory and control agencies, and financial institutions authorized by the BCRA for its own portfolio, in addition to the natural persons residing in Argentina and official accounts.

In addition, Communiqué "A" 5502 imposed, as from December 13, 2013, the issuance of non-transferable LEBAC in Argentine pesos, to be settled at the benchmark exchange rate established by Communiqué "A" 3500, which may be subscribed by duly registered cereal and oil exported.

“Revolving funds and other obligations in foreign currency” represent the transactions resulting from international agreements executed with multilateral or foreign official organizations, central banks or entities of which only the BCRA can be a borrower on its own behalf or on account of the Argentine Treasury as Financial Agent of Argentina, pursuant to the provisions of Article 17 of the Charter.

The balance of Revolving funds is made up of the disbursements made by the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) to be used in loans, technical cooperation efforts and small projects for the acquisition of goods and services, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the agreements executed with the IDB.

Other obligations in foreign currency involve the financing from foreign financial institutions and other organizations, obtained by the BCRA as part of its monetary policy strategies.

Obligations with the Argentine Government include fund deposits in of the Global Credit Program for Micro-, Small- and Medium-sized Enterprises. This program is funded using the loan granted by the IDB to Argentina and grants credit to micro-, small- and medium-sized enterprises that engage in primary production, industrial and commercial activities and in the provision of services (except for those of a financial nature). The balance as of December 31, 2013, totals ARS 435.249 (as of December 31, 2012, it amounted to ARS 394.900).

“Obligations from secured loan services” includes the funds that will be used to pay the abovementioned loan services, which amounted to ARS 396.264 as of December 31, 2013 (the amount as of December 31, 2012, was ARS 389.820).

Obligations from BODEN subscribed were settled in full in fiscal 2013 and represented amounts due to the Federal Government. They were released for the amount equal to the financial services due of each bonds series, as instructed by the Finance Department (ARS 3.035 as of December 31, 2012).

The main items included in “Other” are described as follows: Obligations with the Argentine Government for settlement of loans using BOCON ARS 138.650 (ARS 163.943 as of December 31, 2012) and items pending final allocation in the amount of ARS 303.751 (ARS 231.128 as of December 31, 2012), among others.

4.22 Provisions

The provisions and reserves set as of each year-end which are listed in Exhibit I involve the following items:

	12/31/2013	12/31/2012
Provision for lawsuits	696.269	667.008
Provision for labor-related liabilities	1.175.422	613.508
Provision for guarantee fund under Law No. 22.510	50.949	30.598
Other provisions	793	793
Total	1.923.433	1.311.907

The method used by the BCRA to determine the amounts of the provision for lawsuits was as follows:

Lawsuits were classified based on their procedural status and the type of cases (lawsuits related to the reimbursement of deposits, labor lawsuits, etc.) Based on such classification, the reserve was estimated taking into account a percentage related to identical or similar lawsuits finished.

The lawsuits prior to April 1, 1991, were adjusted through the general wholesale price index plus an annual 6% interest until March 31, 1991, and, as from such date, the common savings account rate published by the BCRA was used. In the case of lawsuits subsequent to March 31, 1991, and prior to January 1, 2002, the borrowing rate under BCRA Notice No. 14.290 was used until December 31, 2001, and, from such date onwards, the common savings account rate based on Law No. 25.344. In the case of lawsuits subsequent to December 31, 2001, and until the closing date of the accompanying financial statements, the borrowing rate under BCRA Notice No. 14.290 was used for judicial purposes.

In addition, lawsuits for damages were brought against the BCRA for unspecified amounts, and an unfavorable outcome thereof for the BCRA is remote as of the issuance of the accompanying financial statements; therefore, no reserve was booked.

NOTE 6 - RISK MANAGEMENT POLICY

6.1 International reserve management risk

As set forth in Section 14 q) of the Charter, as amended by Law No. 26.739, in effect since April 6, 2012, the Board of Governors of the BCRA has the authority to determine the level of gold, foreign currency and other foreign asset reserves required for foreign exchange policy implementation, considering the changes in foreign accounts.

The BCRA uses financial instruments as a way of attaining monetary policy objectives, as well as to manage international reserves. Its main purpose is not to make a profit, although the instruments should be adequate to ensure that its duties as the monetary authority are correctly executed.

The gains (losses) in the exchange rate and the level of international reserves are monitored on a daily basis, and a report is drafted that contains a summarized explanation of the different factors that explain the resulting gain (loss), taking into account the changes in the main listings of the currencies in which the reserves are invested, the gain (loss) on the BCRA’s portfolio securities, the BCRA’s interest in the foreign exchange market and the foreign debt payments. Daily settlements of the regional cooperation agreements such as ALADI and SML (local currency system) are also included.

Every week, the Board of Governors gathers to evaluate the real economy’s progress, the financial and monetary indicators and the situation of the foreign exchange market.

Every month, a report is sent to the Board of Governors on the transactions on the spot and forward exchange market (futures transactions), which provides thorough detail on the monthly changes in the foreign exchange market and reports on the monthly purchases made by the BCRA, the BCRA's relative interest in the market, the total purchases made year-to-date, changes in the monthly settlement of grain and oilseeds exports and changes in the benchmark exchange rates.

On a quarterly basis, the Board of Governors is provided with a report describing the international context, the breakdown of transactions carried out as part of the reserve portfolio management and the income (losses) and yields for the quarter.

In 2013, the Board of Directors assessed the level of reserves required by virtue of section 33, Law No. 26.784. Also taken into consideration was the report prepared by the General Economic Research Section, which concluded that both literature and international experience confirm that the best approach available to define the necessary reserves results from the application of the adjustment indicators approach, supplemented with a thorough qualitative and quantitative analysis of the specificities relevant to the Argentine economy, including local and international conditions of the financial system and monetary variables, as well as the changes in international reserves and the foreign exchange market. It also confirmed that the theoretical and econometric models are ruled out because they pose practical and conceptual issues that do not render them very useful or relevant to the economic policy discussion.

The international reserves act as insurance against potential shocks. Consequently, defining the necessary level will depend on the risks perceived with regard how likely adverse events are to occur. These risks include: 1) commercial risk; 2) financial risk; and 3) risk on monetary aggregates and the financial system.

Commercial risk is analyzed by observing how the following variables behave: the degree of openness to trade, the balance from the trade of goods, the breakdown and destination of exports, and the historical changes in the price of raw materials and its volatility.

The analysis of the financial risk is centered on the requirements to address service obligations of foreign currency debt and the short-term private external debt. This involves an analysis of the changes in the ratio of foreign debt (public and private) to international reserves, of the net flow with international financial institutions, of the external public debt services in relation to the reserves and the external private debt.

With regard to the risk on monetary aggregates and the financial system, a list is made of the characteristics and changes in demand for foreign currency of the private non-financial sector and the role of the financial system in that demand, as well as the regulations in effect on this matter. It also describes the performance of foreign currency supply, in regard to recent changes as well as in regard to projections for the corresponding year.

With regard to managing the risks inherent in the financial instruments forming part of the international reserves, we would like to point out that they are monitored on a daily basis at market value and that their investment process is subject to the provisions of the BCRA's Charter and the guidelines established by the Board of Governors (see the following subsections).

6.1.1 Credit risk

Credit risk consists in the possibility of losses resulting from the counterparty defaulting on its obligations. In this regard, the abovementioned investment guidelines establish that the eligible countries to make investments should have an Aa2/AA/AA or better rating for their long-term sovereign debt in local and foreign currency awarded by at least two of the main credit rating agencies.

Eligible instruments to make investments should have the same rating as the one stated for eligible countries, except in the case of securities issued by supranational organizations, US corporate bonds, and the agency securities of other eligible countries outside the USA, which should have a minimum Aaa/AAA/AAA credit rating. For short-term certificates of deposit and bank acceptances that are direct bank obligations, the minimum credit rating required is A-1/P-1/F-1.

Investment guidelines establish that investment custodians should have the maximum credit rating, i.e. Aaa/AAA/AAA. Additionally, such guidelines established specific limits for investments that can be held in custody by certain counterparties.

6.1.2 Market risk

Market risk arises due to market parameter fluctuations. Therefore, “market risk” encompasses sub-risks involving changes in exchange rates, interest rates and in prices. With regard to this type of risk, the investment guidelines establish that the portfolio duration should not exceed two and a half years, and that the investment in currencies other than the US dollar cannot exceed 30% of total international reserves.

6.1.3 Liquidity risk

Investment guidelines related to the liquidity risk establish that the investment manager will ensure that the portfolio holdings are sufficiently liquid to be sold, within three days after being notified. However, this does not result in a material impact on market prices as a consequence of the liquidation.

6.2 Operating risk

The operating risk arises from incurring in losses due to process, staff or internal system failures, or events outside the BCRA.

In order to control it, foreseeable high-risk events are identified, as well as existing controls related to each process for mitigation purposes.

A distinction is made between financial and nonfinancial risk. An action plan is prepared and there is permanent monitoring.

Within that framework, the BCRA has strengthened and adapted its functional structure through specific organizational units to analyze the probability of occurrence of a threat due to the existence of one or more vulnerabilities with resulting adverse impact for the Bank.

Its main function is to identify and assess nonfinancial risk levels jeopardizing the Bank’s processes, proposing mechanisms to limit and control the organization’s vulnerability in that regard, prepare and update the Business Continuity Manual.

In addition, during fiscal 2013, the BCRA has been developing the Bank’s Operating Continuity Manual, which intends to establish a formal protocol defining the steps to be taken by each department in the event of contingencies preventing the normal performance of their functions and thus guarantee the compliance with their fundamental mission.

6.3 Asset concentration risk

With respect to the risks to which the BCRA could be exposed due to the lack of asset portfolio diversification or a significant exposure to noncompliance risk of security issuer or groups of related issuers, by virtue of BCRA Charter and Convertibility Law Amendment Law No. 26.739, enacted on March 22, 2012, section 3 of the Charter sets forth as follows: “The purpose of the Bank is to promote —within the scope of its powers and under the policies set by the Federal Government— monetary stability, financial stability, employment and economic development along with social equality.”

Within that framework, sections 17 and 20 of the Charter regulate the management of loans and borrowings related to the Argentine financial system and the Federal Government, respectively.

NOTE 7 - EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO YEAR-END

7.1 Maturity and repayment of principal on 1990 Argentine Treasury Consolidated Bond

According to Resolution No. 334/2002 issued by the Ministry of Economy, which restructured the obligations resulting from the repayment terms of the 1990 Argentine Treasury Consolidated Bond, dated January 2, 2014, the fifth instalment was settled, equivalent to 1% of the bond's nominal value.

7.2 LEBAC issuance in US dollars

Through Communiqué "A" 5527 dated January 27, 2014, the BCRA advised on the issuance of LEBAC (BCRA bills) in US dollars to be subscribed by financial institutions for amounts equivalent to private-sector certificates of deposit in the same currency and for the same term.

7.3 Other events

After year-end: (i) as to note 3.4., the January urban national consumer price index (IPC_{Nu}) was 3,7%, while the February IPC_{Nu} was 3,4%, based on the calculation methodology applied by the INDEC (Argentine Statistics and Census Institute); (ii) as to note 3.5.1., the US dollar-to-Argentine peso exchange rate was 7,8953 as of 03/15/2014; and (iii) as to notes 4.1. and 6.1., reserves as of 03/15/2014 amounted to ARS 216.894.117 (equal to USD 27.471.295). In this regard, the BCRA established a series of financial and foreign exchange measures. In order to promote saving in Argentine pesos, LEBAC and NOBAC placement interest rates were increased. From the foreign exchange point of view, the cap for financial institutions' net global position in foreign currency was reestablished at 30% of Computable Equity or own liquid resources, whichever lower, also fixing a 10% cap of computable equity for the forward position. In addition, through Communiqué "A" 5526, new regulations were established to govern access to the domestic foreign exchange market by individuals for the purchase of foreign currency for holding purposes.

(i) Reported through INDEC's press releases dated 02/13/2014 and 03/17/2014, respectively.

(ii) and (iii) Published through BCRA Communiqués "C" 65.520 and 65.489.

There are no other events or transactions that took place between year-end and the date on which these financial statements were issued, that may substantially affect the BCRA's financial position or income (loss) as of December 31, 2013.
